

Tips for Hosting Your Own Screening

- Find a venue that is accessible and has easy parking.
- Partner with a club or organization on campus.
- Consider hosting a short panel discussion with experts. You can invite professors, students, representative from the community organizations.
- Advertise through emails, posters on campus, and word of mouth.
- Refer to the discussion guide for good discussion questions.
- Use a time already on the calendar to convene: a club meeting, a class, or regular event.
- Ask your school paper and the local press to attend.
